How It Works

Infrared energy exploits your body's natural mechanism to control body heat. When you get hot, you sweat to cool off, your heart rates goes up and your blood flow increases, your circulations rises to the surface of your skin acting as a heat-exchanger and this process burns calories.

Weight Loss and Body Re-Shaping

LifeWrap applies heat to the body in order to get underneath the fat tissue and thin blood allowing it to get into the areas that have restricted blood flow causing the metabolites rates to rise. Heat softens the fat tissue causing it to break up and be released into the blood stream in the form of calories. You can burn up to 1400 calories in one 50-minute session, your body will continue to burn calories for up to three days. Removing toxins and body fat from your system enhances smoother looking skin and a streamlined form.

Pain Management

LifeWrap's primary goal for pain relief is to increase tissue temperature with a corresponding increase in blood flow to deeper tissue, plus an increase in muscle temperature. In turn, this provides increased nutrition at a cellular level, reduction of edema and removal of metabolites and inflammatory products. This process can be particularly helpful with people that suffer joint problems such as rheumatoid arthritis, chronic fatigue and fibromyalgia by creating an analgesic effect.

Detoxification

Toxins are ingested every day from the food we eat, the air we breath and products we use on our skin and hair. They can cause you to gain weight and disrupt and inhibit weight loss and slow your metabolism. They cause hormonal imbalance and cell damage, and are strongly linked to weight problems. LifeWrap causes you to perspire, 85% of the your sweat is water, the other 15% is cholesterol, fat soluble toxins, heavy metals, sulfuric acid, sodium, ammonia and uric acid. When your body can't clear toxins effectively you will gain weight as a defense mechanism.

Increased Circulation

Infrared heat increases heart rate and blood circulation. LifeWrap increases your heart rate as more blood flow is diverted from the inner organs out to the extremities of the skin all without heightening blood pressure. LifeWrap circulates blood volume allowing hormones to circulate easier. Increased circulation unburdens the liver so toxins and pesticides are released through the increased blood flow.

Reduced Inflammation

Inflammation is the bodies protective attempt to remove injurious stimuli and initiate the healing process. Without inflammation wounds and infections would never heal. Chronic inflammation can lead to a host of diseases such as hay fever, atherosclerosis, rheumatoid arthritis and weight gain. Cells damaged by inflammation can fill with excess fats and toxins. LifeWrap helps with the reduction of inflammation and bring cells into a normal hormonal balance.

Increased Metabolism

While moisture on the surface of the skin evaporates to cool your body, a number of other changes occurs inside in an attempt to release heat as quickly as possible. As your heart increases perspiration for cooling purposes, your heart works harder pumping blood at a greater rate to boost circulation. Your metabolic rate increases while diastolic blood pressure drops improving your overall fitness. Medical research confirms that the use of infrared causes a cardiac training effect. Your body wants to lower its temperature and tries to do this by raising your heart beat.

Strengthened Immune System

FAR energy strengthens the immune system by stimulating production of white blood cells strengthening the body's resistance to infectious diseases and inflammation increasing production of lymphocytes which are responsible for fighting off disease and infections among others.

What to Expect

Silicone wraps that contain infrared heating filaments are wrapped around and gently secured to your thighs, abdomen, hips, buttocks and biceps. The controlled unit will gently push your body to the point of perspiration, usually taking 20-30 minutes. You should be comfortable, if the temperature is uncomfortable the temperature can be adjusted. You should wear a loose fitting top with sleeves long enough to cover your biceps and cotton pants that are long enough to cover the knee.
